KEY RISKS
Principal Risks	The Fund is susceptible to the following risks:
	<ol> <li>Credit / Default Risk         Refers to the creditworthiness of the bond issuer and its expected ability to repay debt. Default happens when the issuer is not able to make timely payments of interest on the coupon payment date or principal repayment on the maturity date.     </li> <li>Risk management techniques <ul> <li>Conduct thorough credit analysis before any investment.</li> <li>Diversify the portfolio by investing in different issuers, if possible.</li> </ul> </li> <li>Liquidity Risk         <ul> <li>Defined as the ease with which a security can be sold at or near its fair value depending on the volume traded on the market. This is a risk more pertinent to a bond fund as bonds are generally not as easily liquidated in comparison to equities, fixed deposits or cash. In the event some of the underlying investments of the Fund are not actively traded, there is a risk the Manager may not be able to easily liquidate such investments and as a result, investors may face difficulties in redeeming their Units.</li> <li>Risk management techniques</li> </ul> </li> </ol>
	<ul> <li>The Manager shall endeavour to minimize inherent liquidity risk.</li> <li>3) Inflation / Purchasing Power Risk Described as increases of price level of goods and services and is commonly represented using the Consumer Price Index. High inflation reduces the purchasing power of a fixed sum of money. In an inflationary environment, fixed rate securities are exposed to higher inflation risk than inflation-linked securities. <ul> <li>Risk management technique</li> <li>Through active management of the portfolio maturity structure in anticipation of any movement in inflation.</li> <li>Invest mainly in either short-term or high quality liquid issues which enable the portfolio to adjust quickly to any changes in the rates of interest and inflation.</li> </ul> </li> <li>Other risks to the Fund include market risk, interest rate risk, future contracts and derivatives risk, counterparty risk, fund management risk and capital distribution risk.</li> <li>Note: Investor should consider and understand the risks involved when investing in the Fund including the specific risks associated with the securities / instruments that the Fund will be investing in before applying for units. If in doubt, please consult your professional adviser for a better understanding of the risks.</li></ul>
